

HERE TO STAY! HERE TO STAY!

THE BOSTON SHOE STORE, No. 9 EAST MAIN ST., will Always Sell at the Lowest Prices

AND GIVE THE BEST GOODS. FALL GOODS ARE COMING IN EVERY DAY. CALL AND GET PRICES BEFORE BUYING.

FINE PEACHES!

Concord, Delaware and Catawba

GRAPES!

Direct from the Islands,
daily.

W. H. Day & Co.

BARGAIN STORES.
51 and 53 West Main St. and 60 South Main St., Springfield, O.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

FREE ADVERTISING.
ON AND AFTER Today the Springfield Daily Republic will insert such "ads" as "Wanted," "Lost," "For Rent," "For Sale," etc., in this column one time free, three times for twenty-five cents, and six times for fifty cents.

WANTED

WANTED—Clerks and mechanics to know that this shoe store opens October 3d. T. J. Tilton, writing, 1111 Broadway, New York City. W. H. Day & Co., Springfield, O.

WANTED—MAN—To take the agency of our sales, size 12 1/2 inches, weight 55 lbs., retail price, $35; other sizes in proportion. A rare chance to create a permanent business at home. These sales meet a demand never before supplied by other sales companies, as we are not governed by the Safe Pool. Alpine Safe Co., Cincinnati, O.

WANTED—To be addressed by school directors in want of a teacher who has invariably been successful as an instructor and disciplinarian. Supt. Schools, Springfield, O.

WANTED—Boy, for office. Must write a good hand and come well recommended. Wages small to begin with. Boy between the ages of 15 and 20 years preferred. Address, in own hand writing, Lock Box 527, City P. O.

WANTED—A reliable man to represent our business in this section. Something permanent. Charles H. Anderson, Springfield, O.

WANTED—All kinds of clothes and trunks to repair. Called for and delivered; orders will be promptly attended to. S. M. Miller, 107 West Main.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—A fine family horse and buggy cheap. Must be sold. Call at 55 Maple street.

FOR SALE—12 1/2 acres of land, well situated and under high state of cultivation, and one of the best neighborhoods in the county. Theo. A. Wick, 25 East High street.

FOR SALE—Rare chance. If you have a lot of unimproved land and want to build a house, I can furnish the money on easy terms. Theo. A. Wick, 25 East High street.

FOR SALE—Party that has $5,000 or $4,000 to invest in a well-established manufacturing business that pays dividends and will give employment and salary. Consult Theo. A. Wick, 25 East High street.

FOR SALE—Two splendid driving horses. Perfectly good. See them on Saturday. W. I. Patterson.

FOR SALE—FARM—160 acres, 5 miles south of Dayton, O.; two complete sets of farm buildings, excellent tobacco land. Call on or address A. L. Clarke, 3 or 5 Arcade building, Springfield, Ohio.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—House of eight rooms, in good repair, within 10 minutes of the postoffice. For further particulars, see or address A. L. Clarke, 3 or 5 Arcade building.

FOR RENT—Small house of two or four rooms, centrally located, with first class accommodations. Rent cheap. Inquire at Kidder's restaurant, between 5 and 6 p.m. This office.

FOR RENT—A nice house of five rooms on Maple street. Call soon. Possession immediately.

FOR RENT—Two, three or four furnished rooms for housekeeping, centrally located. References required. Address A. L. Clarke, 3 or 5 Arcade building.

FOR RENT—From one to four rooms, centrally located, with first class accommodations. Rent cheap; none but good cooking and neatness. Inquire of Thos. Sharpe.

FOR RENT—House—A very desirable seven-room brick house, No. 36 Maple avenue, lot 15 1/2; suitable for small family; good stable, out-houses, barn, well, cistern, etc. Inquire of J. G. Clark, corner Jefferson and Market streets.

FOR SALE OR TRADE

FOR SALE OR TRADE—Fine two-story frame building, eight rooms, with modern conveniences, good as new, situated on Madison avenue, New Carlisle, Ohio. Will trade for Springfield property on easy terms. Address, F. J. H., New Carlisle, O. 224

MONEY TO LOAN.

TO LOAN—Money to loan, in sums of $500 and upward, on first mortgage. Theo. A. Wick, 25 East High street.

MONEY TO LOAN—In sums of $500 to $7,000, on three to five year time, on first mortgage or approved commercial paper. George H. Coles, room No. 1, Lagonda bank building.

STRAYED.

STRAYED OR STOLEN—From pasture of O. Marion Reese, near Postum school house, spotted Alderney heifer. Information of her whereabouts will be rewarded by leaving word at Ina's Green-house, Springfield, O.

FOUND.

FOUND—A package of gent's linen. Owner can have it by calling at No. 13 Bookwater block, or No. 25 Miller street.

DON'T Allow a peddler or tinkler to tempt you to repair your WRINGER. Winger factory, Mechanic street, near Washington. G. S. Foss & Co.

DRS. VAN NORMAN & HOUSE

Physicians and Surgeons.
Office, No. 3 Mitchell Block.
Residence, No. 143 High St.
Office Hours: 10 a. m. to 12 m., 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. and evenings.

GRATE VARNISH

For giving a beautiful, black Glossy Polish to the burnt and faded or red

FIRE GRATES AND FENDERS

Or other portions of the fire place. This makes it look new and handsome. Dr. Casper puts it up in 15c and 25c bottles, or sold in bulk. Also, the very best

CARBURET STOVE POLISH,

For polishing Stoves, Grates and Ranges. It makes no smell and does the work beautifully and with little labor. Price, 10c per can, or 3 for 25c. All for sale at

CASPER'S Drug Store,

Fisher's Block, Main Street, 3d Door West of Limestone, Springfield, O.

COMING EVENTS.

GRAND—"Rice's Evangeline," Monday evening, September 26.

BLACK'S—Tuesday evening, September 27. The great English melo-drama, "Stricken Blind."

GRAND—Wednesday, September 28, Kate Castleton.

BLACK'S—Thursday evening, September 29. Haverly's mammoth minstrel company, 45 strong.

BLACK'S—Friday evening, September 30. The famous emotional star, Robert B. Mantell, in his new play, "Monbars."

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

There will be no services in Christ church tomorrow.

Mr. Joseph K. Black, of W. M. Black & Bro., has returned from New York City.

Miss Ella Morris, who has been indisposed for several days, is now convalescent.

Mrs. A. King, of New Orleans, is visiting Mrs. W. H. White, of 149 East Columbia street.

Rev. John Dickerson, of Lima, Ohio, will fill the North Street A. M. E. church tomorrow.

Judge James S. Goode and daughters, Misses Lizzie and Alice, have gone to New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Krepps, of Lagonda, and Miss Mary Nelson have returned from their eastern trip.

Wm. Bennett, the colored man who had his heel cut off in an accident Thursday, was taken to the infirmary yesterday afternoon.

Mr. H. L. Rockfield and family have arrived in the city, from Louisville, Ky. Mr. Rockfield has not yet decided where he will locate—Minneapolis or Los Angeles.

Miss Hattie Noyes, from Canton, China, will be the guest of Mrs. A. Winger, with whom she spent a few days, ten years ago—then home from China on a visit, as she is now.

The following persons left on the I. B. & W. limited for St. Louis this morning: Miss H. Fuller, Miss Mary Rheny, B. F. Allison and wife, H. M. Morgan, J. P. Beeson and R. J. Mattis.

Superintendent Fleming, of the infirmary, went to Paulding, Ohio, yesterday to look into the case of a Clark county man named Frank Hughes. He has typhoid fever, and is too sick to be moved.

A very delightful ice cream social was given at Grace church, on West Main street, last night. The attendance was large and the social features unmistakably pleasant. The affair was a marked success financially, as well.

The project of organizing a Springfield branch of the Y. M. C. A. is progressing finely. Already 115 signatures have been obtained to the preliminary roll, which is being circulated simply to test the feelings of the young men on the subject.

Mrs. Wm. Stewart, an aged and prominent lady living near South Charleston, was badly hurt a day or two ago. She is over eighty years old and a cripple. In reaching for something while alone, her crutches slipped and she fell, breaking her left leg above the knee.

St. Louis and Return.

Six dollars for the round trip, via Pan Handle and Vandallia line, the short and popular line.

S. Dobbins, Ticket Agent.

A New Suit.

By her attorneys, Bogle & Rightmyer, Elizabeth N. Brubaker has brought suit against Nehemiah Hall, John Mumma and William C. Mumma, for equitable relief and partition of real estate.

Pan Handle Notice.

Commencing Sunday, Sept. 25, Pan Handle train, No. 7, leaving Springfield every day at 5:10 p. m., will run through solid to Richmond, Ind., at which point it makes immediate connections with a train for Indianapolis, St. Louis and all points west. The train will also have a through sleeper to Chicago.

Bear in mind that the I. B. & W. is eighty-five miles shorter between Springfield and St. Louis and return than that advertised by our competitor. The I. B. & W. is positively the only line running chair cars west from Springfield, and practically the only line upon which reliance can be placed on leaving Springfield in the evening and arriving in St. Louis the next morning. Go via the I. B. & W.

Try Wheldon & Merrill for coal.

Ah, There!

"What! $5 for trousers of that piece of goods?"

"Yes, and that is not all. They are made up in as good a style as if they cost you $10."

"Oh! You don't have to give your order to a New Haven man to get style and pay $2 for $1. All you have to do is to go to J. W. Phillips, No. 39 East Main street, and if he don't get up a suit as nobby and for less money you do not have to take them. Look in his window and see what he has got and his prices."

"H. H.'S" GRAVE.

God, for the man who knew him face to face Prepared a grave apart, a tomb unknown, Where down drop tears, and only winds make moan.

And while angels guard the narrow space God gives to his beloved sleep; the place Where his dear soul was set remote, for rest, After the forty years of desert quest, The final terror, and the Paschal grace.

So, clear-eyed priestesses, sleep! remembering not The fiery scathe of life, nor trackless years; Not even Cæsar's sun-kissed, flowery meads God shields, within his hollowed hand, the spot Where brooding peace reposes unquiet tears.

She sleeps well who hath wrought such no-ho-deeds!—
—M. Virginia Donaghe in The Century.

LINCOLN'S SPEECH AT GETTYSBURG

Private Notes and Memoranda.—The Speech Not Received with Favor.

A day or two before the dedication of the National cemetery at Gettysburg, Mr. Lincoln told me that he would be expected to make a speech on the occasion; that he was extremely busy, with no time for preparation, and that he greatly feared he would not be able to secure himself with credit, much less to fill the measure of public expectation. From his hat (the usual receptacle of his private notes and memoranda) he drew a page of foolscap, closely written, which he read, remarking that it was a memorandum of what he had intended to say. It proved to be in substance, and I think he verba, what was printed as his Gettysburg speech.

After its delivery he expressed deep regret that he had not prepared it with greater care. He said to me on the stand, immediately after concluding the speech, "Lamon, that speech won't scour! It is a flat failure, and the people are disappointed." He seemed more than ordinarily concerned about what the people would think of it. I was deeply impressed by his frank and regretful condemnation of the effort, and especially by his manner of expressing that regret; and my own impression was deepened by the fact that the orator of the day, Mr. Everett, and Mr. Seward both coincided with Mr. Lincoln in his unfavorable view of its merits.

On the platform from which Mr. Lincoln had made his address, and only a moment after its conclusion, Mr. Seward turned to Mr. Everett and asked him what he thought of the president's speech. Mr. Everett replied: "It was not what I expected from him. I am disappointed."

In his turn Mr. Everett asked: "What do you think of it, Mr. Seward?" The response was: "He has made a failure, and I am sorry for it. His speech is not equal to him." Mr. Seward then turned to me and asked: "Mr. Marshall, what do you think of it?" I answered: "I am sorry to say that it does not impress me as one of his great speeches, but I think it is in the face of these facts it has been repeatedly published that this speech was received with great credit by the audience; that amid the tears, sobs and cheers it produced in the excited throng, the orator of the day, Mr. Everett, turned impulsively to Mr. Lincoln, grasped his hand and exclaimed: 'I congratulate you on your success!' adding in a transport of heated enthusiasm: 'Ah! Mr. President, how gladly would I give my hundred pages to be the author of your twenty lines.'"

All this unworthy gush, it is needless to say, is purely apocryphal. Nothing of the kind occurred. As a matter of fact, Mr. Lincoln's great Gettysburg speech fell on the vast audience like a wet blanket. At that time his reputation was confessedly on the wane. The politicians of the country—those of his own party, together with a large part of the press—were casting about for an available candidate to be his successor, while a great majority of the people were for him. I state it as a fact, and without fear of contradiction, that this famous Gettysburg speech was not received or commented upon with anything like hearty favor by the people, the politicians or the press of the United States until after the death of its author. Its marvelous perfection, its intrinsic excellence as a masterpiece of English composition, seem to have escaped the scrutiny of the most scholarly critics and the wisest heads of the day, on this side of the Atlantic. That discovery was made, we must regretfully own, by distinguished writers on the other side. The London Spectator, The Saturday Review, The Edinburgh Review and other European journals were the first to discover, or at least to proclaim, the classical merits of the Gettysburg speech. It was then that we began to realize that it was indeed a masterpiece, and it then dawned upon many minds that we had entertained an unwelcome unwelcome who had left us unappreciated.—Ward H. Lamon's Letter.

Slow Arsenical Poisoning.

I have read a great deal in the papers about slow poisoning processes, but only believed the various statements when they were brought home to me. My wife, who had been remarkable for her rugged health and rosy appearance, began to fade away. She dwindled to a mere shadow, and yet she reiterated statements of good health. Finally, I insisted on calling in a doctor of high standing, after an emphatic protest from our regular physician. A long diagnosis decided that my wife was suffering from arsenical poisoning drawn into the system from a cheap set of false teeth, which had been purchased about a week before the first symptoms of weakness had been observed. Arsenic had been used in the enamel to secure the glittering whiteness so much admired by women, and in the process of mastication small particles had been absorbed into the food and taken into the stomach, where the insidious work of destruction was progressing surely to a fatal termination. I don't know how many cases of the kind may exist, but from the fact that half a dozen medical men were attempting to cure the disease, I would not be surprised if thousands of women were poisoned annually in this way.—Railroad Conductor in Globe-Democrat.

Development of the Trotter.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, like many other southern men, is an admirer and lover of the horse. He was going the other day to run over to the trotting races at Hartford when he said: "It must eventually come about that the trotting race will be popular, because it is in this race that the horse combines utility with speed of action. It is as the roadster that the horse is most available for pleasure and practical service. In a recent article written by Judge Hughes, of Richmond, I saw a theory advanced in reference to the development of the trotting gait, which I think I have not seen mentioned before. The thoroughbred animal is to be found on the great plains and level stretches of the country, where his natural gait is running. The trotting gait, Judge Hughes thinks, comes to the animal as he is transferred to undulating countries, where he is obliged to adapt his footing to rising and falling thoroughfares. That would be the natural development of the running thoroughbreds into the trotters. It is, of course, to the thoroughbreds that we must go for the best stock for the development of trotters as well as runners."

—New York Tribune.

For cramps and colic, The original Brown's Senger. Frederick Brown, Philadelphia, 1822.

For fresh oysters in can and bulk at Hohl & Lyon's, corner Main and Center streets.

A set of teeth from $8 up. Rowland dentist, 8 S. Market street, over Leuty's.

BEE LINE NOTICE.

The rate to St. Louis and return via this line will be as low as the lowest. Don't go on indirect route because you think the rate is lower. We are in the field for this business and will meet any and all rates. Special trains Monday without charge. Get full particulars of G. H. Knight, Agent.

MELANCHOLY DAYS

The saddest season of the year, are here, and you should think seriously of the depressing influence on your family and counteract it by purchasing a nice

PIANO OR ORGAN

To brighten your home with their mellifluous tones, go at once to the old reliable house of

R. F. BRANDOM & COMPANY

And get a Steinway, Chickering, Boardman & Gray, Newby & Evans, Hallet & Cumston, Behr Bros., Lindeman, or some other of their good Pianos. Or, if you want an Organ, ask for the Palace, Miller or Cottage Organ; you can find just what you want at Brandom's, and just as represented. Look out for misrepresentations of dead beat agents. It's always cheaper and better to go to only reliable people for goods that cost as much as Pianos and Organ. The only dealers in Springfield are

R. F. BRANDOM & COMPANY, - - - NO. 74 ARCADE.

Leaving Port on a Friday.

"When do you sail, captain?" queried Deputy Shipping Commissioner Ferris of the master of a Maine schooner. "I'll get off on Friday," he replied.

To the superstitious land lubber of a reporter present this appeared like an unorthodox statement, so he asked Deputy Ferris, himself an old sailor for many years, if modern seamen had entirely recovered from their old scare of setting sail on Friday. The reporter broke into the first stanza of the old sea song:

"Twas Friday night when we set sail, And 'twas not very far from the land When the captain spied a jolly mermaid, With a comb and a glass in her hand."

"Well," responded Ferris, "I can't say that the superstition is entirely gone from seafaring men, but the great majority of both sailing masters and crews don't pay the slightest attention to that day, so ominous to tradition. When they're ready with a load they go at the most favorable wind, Friday or no Friday, but we do meet with sailors now and then who couldn't be induced to leave port on Friday, just as you still run across thousands of landmen who never undertake any affair of importance on that day. Most of these sailors hail from nations like Sweden, Denmark and Germany, where old superstitions have still a strong hold on the people; but American tars don't mind them at all."—New York Evening Sun.

Slow Arsenical Poisoning.

I have read a great deal in the papers about slow poisoning processes, but only believed the various statements when they were brought home to me. My wife, who had been remarkable for her rugged health and rosy appearance, began to fade away. She dwindled to a mere shadow, and yet she reiterated statements of good health. Finally, I insisted on calling in a doctor of high standing, after an emphatic protest from our regular physician. A long diagnosis decided that my wife was suffering from arsenical poisoning drawn into the system from a cheap set of false teeth, which had been purchased about a week before the first symptoms of weakness had been observed. Arsenic had been used in the enamel to secure the glittering whiteness so much admired by women, and in the process of mastication small particles had been absorbed into the food and taken into the stomach, where the insidious work of destruction was progressing surely to a fatal termination. I don't know how many cases of the kind may exist, but from the fact that half a dozen medical men were attempting to cure the disease, I would not be surprised if thousands of women were poisoned annually in this way.—Railroad Conductor in Globe-Democrat.

Development of the Trotter.

Senator Daniel, of Virginia, like many other southern men, is an admirer and lover of the horse. He was going the other day to run over to the trotting races at Hartford when he said: "It must eventually come about that the trotting race will be popular, because it is in this race that the horse combines utility with speed of action. It is as the roadster that the horse is most available for pleasure and practical service. In a recent article written by Judge Hughes, of Richmond, I saw a theory advanced in reference to the development of the trotting gait, which I think I have not seen mentioned before. The thoroughbred animal is to be found on the great plains and level stretches of the country, where his natural gait is running. The trotting gait, Judge Hughes thinks, comes to the animal as he is transferred to undulating countries, where he is obliged to adapt his footing to rising and falling thoroughfares. That would be the natural development of the running thoroughbreds into the trotters. It is, of course, to the thoroughbreds that we must go for the best stock for the development of trotters as well as runners."

—New York Tribune.

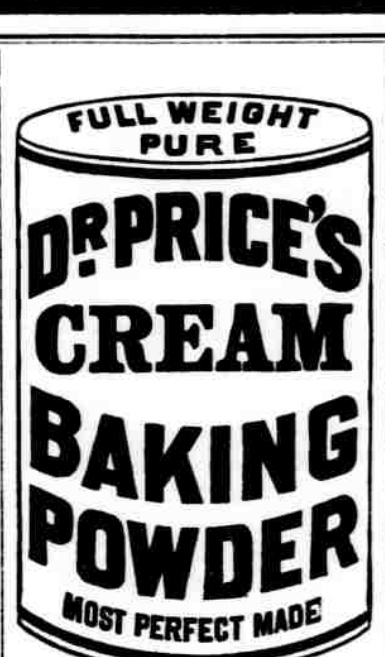

For cramps and colic, The original Brown's Senger. Frederick Brown, Philadelphia, 1822.

For fresh oysters in can and bulk at Hohl & Lyon's, corner Main and Center streets.

A set of teeth from $8 up. Rowland dentist, 8 S. Market street, over Leuty's.

BEE LINE NOTICE.

The rate to St. Louis and return via this line will be as low as the lowest. Don't go on indirect route because you think the rate is lower. We are in the field for this business and will meet any and all rates. Special trains Monday without charge. Get full particulars of G. H. Knight, Agent.

Used by the United States Government. Endorsed by the heads of the great Universities as the strongest, purest, and most healthful. Dr. Price's is the only Baking Powder that does not contain Ammonia, Lime or Alum. Sold only in cans.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK, CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS.

HATS! HATS!

All the Leading Fall Styles at Prices that Please.

Haynes

Hatter and Furnisher, 5 East Main Street.

GEO. A. DIEHL,

73 AND 75 EAST MAIN ST.

HARDWARE!

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

MAN TELS, GRATES, DOORS, SASH, BLINDS, GLASS, OIL CLOTHS, BIRD CAGES,

PAINTERS' SUPPLIES

READ D'ALBERT'S ADVERTISEMENT

MRS. BERRY.

PRIVATE BOARDING HOUSE.

The Only First-class House of this kind in the city.

Rooms en suite or single. No. 10 1/2 W. Main, N. E. Corner Factory. BARNETT'S FLAT.

RATES: $1 to $1.50 per day; and $4.50, $5 and $6 per week.

LUDLOW'S COCA WINE!

A NERVE STIMULANT AND INVIGORATOR.

Beneficial in General Debility, Exhaustion, and just the thing to help you through the hot weather. Large bottles, $1.

CHARLES LUDLOW & CO.,
Pharmacists, 55 East Main Street.

WE OFFER THE FOLLOWING

BARGAINS IN BICYCLES!

BICYCLES

BICYCLES

One 56-inch Expert Columbia, nickled, $75 00

One 55-inch Columbia Light Roadster 87 Patern, $115 00

One 54-inch Challenge, nickle, $75 00

One 52-inch Challenge, enameled, $70 00

One 52-inch Sansaperril, full nickel, $70 00

One Safety Bicycle, $75 00

L. F. OLDS & BRO.,

NO. 8 WEST MAIN STREET.

JOHN H. WILSON,

MERCHANT

TAILOR

NOS. 26 AND 28 EAST MAIN STREET.

New line of Fall Goods just opened, and the largest stock